Principal's Note

Prof. Sanjay Kumar Sinha
Principal

Welcome to the latest edition of PC Vibes!

As the holiday season is upon us, I extend my warmest wishes and share the latest updates with you. Apart from fun, family, friends, zucchini bread and pumpkin pie, holiday is also about new beginnings. University examinations were conducted smoothly under the leadership of the Controller of Examinations. The herculean task of admission to the new academic session was also managed efficiently by the Convenor and his team. Vacation also gave us space to carry out various repairs and renovations before the beginning of the new session. World Environment Day and International Yoga Day were also celebrated on the Campus. Kudos to the Coordinators of NSS and our PTI!

Some of our faculty members also utilised the vacation by presenting papers at seminars and conferences off campus. I'm immensely satisfied with the progress we have made and I thank each and everyone for their valuable contributions.

Editors' Note

Dr. Richa

Dr. Naqui Ahmad John

Mr. Avinash Kumar

Dr. Surya Nath Singh

We are pleased to bring to you the June edition of PC Vibes. Apparently, it was the month of vacations but when has college ceased to work? Three rounds of admissions into different programmes took place with an overwhelming response from the students. In spite of holiday, many teachers and non-teaching staff were on duty signing the most precious documents of admission for the fresh minds who will be students of the college for next 3 or 4 years. So, the extremely hot summer has been the beginning of campus life for the budding youth. Apart from admission, Environment Day and Olympics Day were also observed. Repair work went on despite the heat in order to provide a fresh and clean campus to its stakeholders. Ensuring academic worth, many teachers published articles in different reputed journals. We have tried to bring to you the vibrance of our campus even during hot summer.
