Principal's Note

Prof. Sanjay Kumar Sinha
Principal

What's better than making it four in a row?

PC Vibes has certainly added value to the institution.

Despite the white-hot April, we bred lilacs, symbolising renewal and confidence. A college canteen and a new look office took effect; CIA and B.Ed. examinations were effectively managed under the new controller of examination; admissions for the new academic session have also been initiated; IQAC is working overtime on AQAR preparation. Some of our students did us proud by qualifying for various academic programme.

Target for the next month is resuming the publication of our research journal, Current Studies. Weather permitting, we also intend to take up restoration work of some classrooms and toilets. Keeping fingers crossed!

Creating the good 'Vibes' is not by any means, an easy job and for the editors, I can only say, "You are insanely good! Keep getting better at this."

We cannot say that 'April is the cruellest month'. Even though it was hot and dry but the college did not lose its momentum. From the re-opening of college canteen to extinguishing of fire, the month of April has been quite eventful. Teachers, students and the non-teaching staff did not miss a chance to be productive. From awareness programmes to election trainings, the college has been active on and off campus. Teachers took new assignments and carried on the old ones well. Amid exams, celebrations and classes the month passed by and here we are with a compact glimpse. PC Vibes has not been short of news so far.
